Grammar School Building Progress

After Various Delays Trustees Hope to Move Into New Building by January

Patrons of Sonoma's fine new $30,000 grammer school will be pleased to hear that the trustees predict that the building will be accepted and ready for occupancy some time in January.

It has been one year and three months since the work was started but owing to many complications which beset contractor Ingram there have been various delays and tie ups. The contractor got into financial deep water, and despite two payments made by the school board his bondsmen finally had to assume the responsibility of the work. This eased the situation for a time but apparently the responsibility was abstract rather than concrete and as a result workmen again layed off and held up the work and our school trustees have been taxing their ingenuity to keep things moving at the big building. Two weeks ago there was a lay off but apparently now the men have seen the wisdom of staying with the work until the final $12.000 payment is forthcoming rather than face up the possibility of forcing the Board to take away the contract from Ingram and re-let it. This process would involve considerable expense and red tape, and in so much as the building is now seven eighths completed it is likely the plasterers will complete their work and the building will be finished up and turned over by the present contractor.

Withal the progress on the building has been so interrupted, the building itself has been well put up and it will be a decided credit to the district and should more than compensate the trustees for the responsibilities and vexations attendant upon its erection. The six class rooms are practically finished and with their cheery windows, splendid system of heating and ventilation; fine black boards and frieze of art burlap they make a most attractive appearance.

The occupancy of the new building is to be made the occasion of fine ceremonies in which old 'grads" from everywhere will participate and the fine assembly hall will be thrown open to the public.

METHODIST LADIES WERE HOSTESSES

The "afternoon" at the M. E. Church Tuesday when the Ladies Aid of that denomination welcomed the Congregational Ladies Aid and St. Barbara's guild at a joint meeting was a highly successful and enjoyable affair. The idea inagurated by the Methodist ladies was received with great enthusiasm and as a result the attendance was large and everyone who went had a delightful time.

The church rooms were transformed into a reception hall made cozy and artistic with rugs, potted plants and easy chairs. Here the Methodist ladies received their guests; Mrs. Goodman, Mrs. Waltz, Mrs. Dunbar and Mrs. Akers being among those on the reception committee. After all had assembled and been made welcome, the banquet hall was thrown open and presented a most attractive appearance with its prettily decorated tables where places had been laid for 80 guests. Almost that number sat down to the fine spread and the feast was enlivened by much wit, repartee and speech making. Mrs. Waltz contributed a humorous verse on "Ladies Aids" and Mrs. M. Akers gave the address of welcome to the visitors.

St. Barbara's guild was represented by Mrs. G. H. Hotz and Mrs. P. N. Stofen in the absence of Mrs. F. T. Duhring. Mrs Appleton spoke in behalf of the Congregational ladies. There were also speeches by Rev. Mr. Waltz, Mr. Price and Mr. Holt, who commended the ladies for their splendid work in the churches and endorsed the idea of unity among them.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

Sam Faok charged with reckless driving of his automobile by Bert Gale was found guilty by Judge Small who declared the preponderance of evidence war against the accused but witheld sentence.

Elmer House accused of non support of his wife was held to answer and bail in the sum of $250.00 was furnished by Chas. Lane and Wm. Ashe of Glen Ellen.

GOT SIGNERS FOR PROHIBITION

Wet and Dry Referendum Petition Circulated at Ladies Aids Joint Meeting Tuesday

The joint meeting of the Ladies Aids of the Methodist, Congregational and Episcopal churches was the occasion of the presentation of the referendum petition for signatures to put on the ballot the matter of making California dry at the next election.

While not announced for that purpose, those having the petition in charge, thought the meeting too good an opportunity to miss to secure signers so made the most of it. While a number of signatures were secured there was obvious discomfort among some present who do not believe that prohibition is the solution of the question.

SENTENCED FOR THEFT OF THREE TURKEYS

Augustino Arata, alias Three Fingered Jack and Willie Fowler, out on probation, were up in Judge Small's court Tuesday charged with petty larceny, and upon pleading guilty were sent to the County jail for six months.

The charge was made by Mrs Mathilde Spindler who lost three turkeys valued at $12 from her poultry yard near the depot Sunday night. A search warrant was issued the following day and two of the missing birds were located at the home of the suspects. Two birds were concealed in a wood pile but did not escape the eagle eye of the officers. The third bird had been peddled to the Lombardo hotel.

Arata and Fowler were immediately arrested and two of the birds were offered in evidence before Judge Small. The accused men plead guilty and were sentenced in accordance with the penalty prescribed for the offense.

Judge Small was offered a turkey but refused to eat either exhibit A. or B.

BEACH-SMITH MARRIAGE

Mrs. Louisa Smith and C. H. Beach of Walnut Creek were united in marriage Thanksgiving day by the Rev. Father Comerford and are residing on the Smith ranch East of town. Mrs. Smith is the widow of the well known rancher who was run down and killed by a train near Vineburg a little over a year ago.

Mr. Beach was formerly a well-known resident of Marin County, but has also interests at Walnut Creek. Friends are bestowing congratulations upon the popular couple.

At the Bridge Club of which Mrs. W. B. Hays was hostess Thursday, the prize winner was Mrs. Will Clewe who won a hand-painted cup and saucer.

The hearing on the petition to show cause why all the real estate in the estate of H. H. Granice should not be sold, was continued for a week by Judge Denny. The petition filed by the widow sets forth the necessity of selling all the realty including the homestead, subject to her seven years tenure to settle claims against the estate. Among these claims are about $1,500 for remodeling the homestead just prior to deceased's marriage; $162.50 for repairs and skunk trimming on a seal skin coat of Mrs. Grace I. Bonner and $545 funeral expenses.

Other charges against the estate are $1,150 fees for the widow and her attorney. These bills and many others come out of the property not already given to the widow by Judge Denny.

She has already received all the life insurance, $50 per month family allowance, $500 worth of furniture and the homestead for seven years. After the debts are paid she will still get one third of the residue if there should be any.

She now claims the right to sell out the daughters interest in the home to pay debts but would retain her hold on it for the 7 years decreed by the court.

The laws of California are apparently making it possible for the widow of three months to deprive the children of the first marriage of all their natural rights regardless of circumstances.

CHRISTMAS BEEF

Apparently Leveroni and Maffei are getting quite a corner on the butcher business in Sonoma for this week one of their competitors retired from the field upon the announcement that they had purchased 100 head of fine beef cattle and were otherwise out distancing their rivals. The news of one less in this line of business was received with the same relief that would be attendant upon similiar announcements in other over crowded lines with which Sonoma is inflicted. Leveroni and Maffei rounded out their November success by buying 100 head of Spreckels best beef cattle and have leased the Bigelow ranch for fattening up this fancy stock for their Xmas beef. This is the way this live firm "throw their hooks" into their competitors.

COMFORTS FAMILY IN THEIR TROUBLE

J. P. Nunn of Deming, New Mexico, who came here to be present at the funeral of his favorite sister, Mrs. T. J. McGimsey, who passed away last week, has decided to remain on a short visit and his presence here is a great comfort to the bereaved family. Mr. Nunn is a cattle man of the border country and received the wire which brought him here on his sad mission while on a business trip to El Paso. He left at once for California.

His father lives in New Mexico also and is hale and hearty at 90 years of age.

TRUSTEES HOLD BUSY MEETING

Discuss Many Municipal Matters and Allow Monthly Bills -- New City Attorney Addresses Board

This month did not get by very far before the City Trustees were in session, for their regular meeting, the first Wednesday in the month, fell on the very first night of December. There was a full representation, the Mayor, his colleagues, the new City Attorney C. C. Cowgill, health officers, marshalls and other dignitaries.

Attorney Cowgill was on the outside of the rail "looking in" and upon being invited into the inner circle stood out for a formal understanding as to his status and his salary. He demanded all the documents from his predecessor and went on record regarding the amount of work the City could expect for the salary of $12.00 per month which the position of City Attorney pays. The city dads assured him that when called upon to represent the city in litigation and special matters he would receive extra fees. In addition a committee was instructed to wait upon ex-city attorney Poppe and ask for all documents and records of the office which will be turned over to Mr. Cowgill. Representative Hildebrecht of Leonard & Day bridge architects, was authorized to prepare plans and specifications for the $1,600 concrete bridge for Washingthn street.

The report of Tax Collector was received and showed $6,000 collected to date. The Recorder's report showed three actions with fines aggregating $20. The Board of Health reported unsatisfactory conditions at the sewer farm and the matter will be taken up by the city and adjusted. Acting health officer Dr. Thomson advised some changes at the farm. Collins and Mohr's request for a reduction on their license from $10 to $6 per quarter on the Don Theatre was refered to the legislation committee.

Leroy Roberts was granted a liquor license to take the place of Jas. Modini who has retired.

Trustee Breitenbach reported that a grass fire in the cemetary had destroyed some fencing and had evidently been caused by carelessness, The marshall was asked to investigate.

Water matters were discussed at some length but no action was taken. The offer of Mons. Callieaud to supply the city with some plants for the plaza was accepted with thanks. City Attorney Cowgill suggested that all the city ordinances be put in shape and printed in pamphlet form. The following bills were allowed and ordered paid.

The hearing on the complaint filed with the Railroad Commission relative to the failure of the Sonoma City Water Works Company to live up to its contract to furnish water for fire protection, will be held at the City Hall Friday at 2 o'clock. Examiner Encell of the Public Utilites Commission, the Trustees, the City Attorney and Mesdames L. Emparan and M. Cutter will be interrogated in regard to the contract and the water situation in Sonoma will be throughly gone into.

Source of supply, possibilities and lack of finances to develop the present system in accordance with the term of the contract will be brought out at the hearing also the possibilities of a municipal system and source of opposition to such a plan due to small private holdings of water rights by various property owners having franchises within the city limits. The session promises to be of considerable interest and a representative attendance is predicted.

FIRE NEAR FETTERS SPRINGS

A cottage belonging to Mrs. Miles and occupied by her and her two children, took fire about noon time last Saturday and was completely destroyed. Only that the little house stood alone, the entire neighborhood would have been swept by the flames as there is no fire protection

However, it is the intention of the proprietors of Fetters Springs to shortly erect a fire house and keep two paid fireman to prevent conflagrations in that vicinity.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Sonoma Brewing Company is set for Tuesday. The brewery is one of Sonoma's big home industries and numbers among it stockholders some of our most prominent people.

SEWING CLUB AT HUNTER HOME

Mrs. Ray Hunter was gracious hostess to the "Flying Needles" Wednesday afternoon and was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. W. H. Hanger. The attractive home was adorned with great bunches of golden chrysanthemums and a cheerful fire blazed welcome to the guests who gathered for an afternoon of sewing and social chat After the discussion of many fine points of their needle work and exchange of new ideas and novelties for Xmas gifts, the company sat down to an inviting repast. The following ladies were present; Mesdames Joost, LaTorres, Cliff, Geo. Lowell, Casson, Whitmore, Hunter and Hanger.

The next meeting of the "Flying Needles" will be on Wednesday at Mrs. Dobbels.

The appeal of Gorsky vs. Murray has been dismissed by Judge Seawell This case grew out of a board bill contracted by an employee of Murray at Gorsky's. Because of an opinion handed down by the Appellate Court at Sacramento that when notice of appeal is filed the amount of the fee for filing of the papers in the higher court must be paid or else the appeal will fail, the action was nullified.

Mrs. Johnston, mother of Mrs. J. McElney, attended the Exposition the first of the week.

Jewel City, Farewell!

We have been asked by President Moore of the Exposition to join in the wondrous toast to the greatest of World's Fairs upon which the curtain will be rung down tonight at midnight and we poor mortals be compelled to go reluctantly on our way with only the memory of this great achievement to comfort us. But oh such a memory! It is good to have lived and been a part of this era in the West during this year 1915 and to have learned to have loved and been enriched by so wondrous a triumph.

Destructive seems the hand of time which takes it from us but constructive is the effect on every iota of our being for there can be no one who has come within the influence of the Panama Pacific, but has felt the quickening of appreciation, the expansion of vision and perspective, the broadening of ideas, the enrichment of taste, the growth of the spirit that is the fore runner of a greater nationalism.

Seasoned travelers and scholars have been awed even as the more provincial onlooker for here in this magic city by the Golden Gate with the towering Tamalpias as proud sentinal, the globe trotter and the connoisseur have paused in the colorful Courts of Honor and of Flowers and of Seasons and description has failed then, comparison become impossible, for our World's Fair has been a new creation, a renaissance. The outward expression of the inward spirit of the builders, the atmosphere in which it grew, the harmony and perfect beauty of the ensemble—these are the thoughts that possess one.

To this is added our practical acquaintance with the ambitions and achievements of the world. Educative in its effect and wondrous in its culture the Panama Pacific International Exposition has placed a priceless gift in the path of all those who have entered its portals.

Healthful Conditions In Sonoma Valley

Investigation by the State authorities into the sanitary condition existing at the resorts in Sonoma Valley has revealed that we have complied with all the requirements as to safe guarding health and the clean bill given our summering places is a feather in the cap of this locality. Especially since some of California's bigger resorts and the more fashionable retreats at Tahoe have been found to be in very bad shape and in direct violation of the laws of sanitary requirement.

Sonoma Valley resort proprietors are to be commended for their enterprise and care, for their regard for the general health of the locality as with the thousands of visitors we have in our midst each season there might easily be an epidemic of typhoid or some such dread malady. Situated as we are so near San Francisco and having as we do such reasonable rates of transportation, we naturally get a large percentage of recreation seekers from the congested districts of the city.

To take care of this aggregate is no small matter and yet our resort keepers have done admirably and as is revealed by the State Board of Health, it is no lucky chance that has made us immune from disease, but proper provision and sanitation in the handling of our vacationers.

With our climate, scenery and renowned curative mineral waters and the facilities to cater to tourists, we are indeed fortunate and we should rejoice that we can place within the reach of all such health giving and health restoring and health assuring possibilities. The rich can journey far, but the middle classes must look for their vacations near by and who knows, but what new impulse as well as new health may come to some of those who find so close at hand the refreshing naturalness of rural life here in Sonoma Valley. There is a potential moral atmosphere in country life and it is subtle in its influence. It must of course be supplimented with the side safe guarded by boards of health, but having established a sanitary foundation, the other side responds more quickly. So instead of being forever a part of a great artificial world, those who come to the country for diversion many decide to permanently enjoy our rural healthfulness.

GLAD OF DELAY IN MOTOR SERVICE

The announcement of the delay in the inauguration of the motor rural mail delivery as announced exclusively in the Index-Tribune last week, is being received with much satisfaction by Postmaster Wagnon and also by patrons along the various routes.

Sonoma's Postmaster can now start the service with the regular carrier, who will have successfully passed the examination, instead of putting on as substitute, carrier Wolf, as anticipated. The roads too will be in better shape as many now are just in process of fixing and the holiday rush will be over. Taking it every way the postponement was a wise move on the part of the authorities at Washington and the success of the new system should now be assured.

The protest of the Chamber of Commerce of Petaluma which was forwarded to Washington, brought the redress; the authorities there stating that they believed the new routing practicable and knew its success would be demonstrated after its inauguration.

YOUR LAST CHANCE AT THE EXPOSITION

Tonight is farewell night at the great Exposition. Buy your ticket and go down this afternoon. The Northwestern Pacific will sell tickets good for the return up to December 13th at $1.00.

See the electric pageant, illuminated floats, hear fine band concerts and take in the illuminated flight by Art Smith. Tonight is the biggest night at the wondrous Exposition.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong. No alcohol.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT TO PROMINENT LADY

Mrs. Sarah Baines, one of our prominent Valley residents met with an unfortunate accident at her home in El Verano Tuesday where she fell and broke her arm besides sustaining a number of bruises. Dr. Gobar was summoned and set the injured member. He has since made X-ray plates of the fracture and reports his patient doing nicely.

LITTLE GIRL WINS PRIZE

Miss Marjorie Stilwell, the winsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stillwell, won the splendid little kitchen range offered by E. Hobbie of the Rex Mercantile Co. to the little girl who submitted a list containing the largest number of words made up from the letters contained in "Wedgewood Stoves and Ranges." The victory of little Miss Stilwell was a notable one, as she won over more than fifty other contestants.

The judges in the contest were Mrs. Hattie Gilbert, Mrs. Frank Brown and Mrs. J. W. Hamilton. —Petaluma Argus.

LIBRARIAN PROVES GOOD SAMARITAN

Miss Kate McDonell, our librarian, was destined to be a good samaritan when she journeyed to the Exposition grounds last Sunday.

While Miss McDonell was in front of the French Pavilion awaiting the arrival of her cousin, a well dressed tourist either fell or was thrown to the ground at her feet. A crowd quickly gathered, but she was the only woman to give first aid and was instrumental in summoning the ambulance and having the patient conveyed to the emergency hospital. Here it was discovered, that there was a possible fracture of the skull and that the lady was from Utah.

DR. OSBORNE AS ALIENIST

Dr. A. E. Osborne, formerly Superintendant at Eldridge, was called in to the Hiram Talley case at Santa Rosa last week to give his opinion regarding Talley's sanity. The aged man who shot and killed a Petaluman some weeks ago, is a puzzle to physicians and since the tragedy gives evidence of dementia.

Dr. Osborne has made a life long study of mental cases and defectives and it is interesting to recall that he was an advocate of eliminating hopeless imbeciles and his opinion along these lines caused considerable discussion some years ago.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT

The suit of the Sonoma Valley Furniture Company against the Herald Publishing Company, which was to have come up for trial before Judge Seawell Thursday was settled out of court, J. K. Bigelow forwarding the amount due the furniture people on a judgement secured in the local justice court.

The case has been dragging on for a year and as Mr. Picetti had evidently the best of it, the compromise was sought and effected.

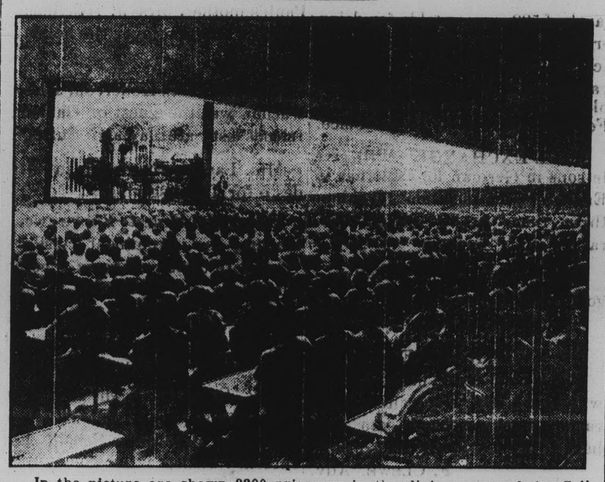
Twenty-three Hundred Prisoners at San Quentin Hear a Lecture on the Panama-Pacific International Exposition



In the picture are shown 2300 prisoners in the dining room of the California state prison at San Quentin, listening in rapt attention to a lecture on the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Louis J. Steliman, a San Francisco magazine writer, was the lecturer, and he illustrated his address with colored lantern slides of the great Fair.

The rotunda of the Palace of Fine Arts, universally conceded to be the most beautiful architectural feature of the Exposition, is shown on the screen. As the Palace of Fine Arts will be preserved, many of the prisoners shown in this picture may yet have the opportunity of seeing it.

ONE WAY TO KEEP THE COURT OF ABUNDANCE

To the Editor:

Create replicas of the Court of Abundance throughout the State is the suggestion I beg to offer to public-spirited people in interior cities and towns who wish to make their civic centers more attractive. Here is a plan to spread some of the most beautiful features of the Exposition over the map of California. No form of architectural embellishment has been more appreciated than this enchanting court designed by Louis Christian Mullgardt.

A million Californians have now returned to their homes with the regret that such perfect beauty must vanish. Yet, why should this court of such unforgettable loveliness become even an ineffable memory,

If the civic societies and commercial organizations of the State would improve their public plazas or parks, let them erect replicas of the Court of Abundance thereon according to the funds at their disposal. The cost of material is low in comparison with other building materials Over a frame of rough timbers imitation travertine may be cheaply placed.

The winter rain set in Thursday night and the Valley received a thorough drenching. As plowing and seeding have been going on for some time the farmers are rejoicing at the coming of the storm. Stock men are jubilant at the turn in the weather also, as the earlier rain spoiled the fall feed without being sufficient to start the new grass. The present rainfall will be beneficial in every respect at this time.

The rainfall for the season up to yesterday morning, totals 3.04 inches of which 1.74 inches fell after midnight Thursday.

Assistant District Attorney J. W. Ford and Court Reporter Scott were prominent visitors here yesterday.

The Will Cummings' of Eureka were the guests of the Kiser family over the holiday.

The J. M. MacQuiddys' have returned to Sonoma.

The California Wine Association has paid its first installment of taxes in Sonoma County, it amounted to $17,330.

This is the big industry contributing to the prosperity of California that our representatives including Mr. Bundschu go to Washington Monday to protect.

Ralph Busby and his partner, E. Coates treated a group of batchelor friends to an oyster supper Tuesday night. Next to selling "Fords" the hosts are keen on "good eats" and the guests also did justice to the spread. Those present besides the hosts were Messrs. Al Jansen, Roy Pauli, Theo. Keiser, John Tracy, Ray Cooper Percy Carmer, James and Ray Gottenberg.

Last Days of Exposition to End in Blaze of Glory

President Charles C. Moore has emphatically declared that December 4th shall be the last day for the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition. By the middle of February the magnificent Jewel City, which brought all nations to its feet in ecstasy, will be but a happy memory. Hence it is that everyone is doing his best to make the last three weeks memorable ones. The most wonderful programme in the history of the Exposition will take place on its closing days. Every day the crowd is augmented by visitors from East and West alike. The whole world has awakened to the fact of what December 4th means, and the attendance at the Exposition, instead of being on the wane, keeps up to a splendid and unexpected average.

December 4th will be the gala day of the entire ten months of joy supreme. Carnival spirit is to reign. Already reservations are being made at the restaurants, hotels and cafes on the Zone for tables for this last evening, which will rival in pure joyousness the ever-famous San Francisco New Year's Eve. Dancing on the Zone, illuminated aeroplane flights, special fireworks, a carnival parade are a few of the events planned to make it a night of revelry never to be forgotten. Instead of closing at midnight the Exposition gates will keep open until daylight. With the ever-glad spirit of San Francisco to the fore with renewed and increased power for happiness, a time is promised that has never had and will never have its equal in the world of carnival events.

What is the use of being cold when you can be warm. A car of A. No.1 coal 40 tons arrived at Battos' spur on Tuesday last and now we have coal to burn.

It is not very often that our genial and popular poultry man, Frank Rhode of the Vineburg poultry yards gets sad, but he is sad now for an automobile ran over and killed his high bred dog "Teddy" Dont worry Frank, there are a few more "kittens" in the country.

This remedy acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and is so THOROUGH a bowel cleanser that it is used successfully in appendicits. How to Kill Mosquitoes Legally

Mosquitoes are be be warred on down in San Mateo County and if the problem can be solved down in a county so adjacent to marsh land and woody sections we should be able to give the pests the run up here in Sonoma County. The Burlingame "Advance" has this to say about the undertaking:

While Burlingame was passing a resolution to join the tri-city mosquito district the trustees of San Mateo were doing the same thing. Hillsborough will join with the other cities and the district will include the territory from Lomita Park to Beresford on the south. The district will be in charge of trustees appointed from the three cities and a special tax levy will provide funds to work with. The completed district will not be formed until next year.

A new law was passed by the last Legislature providing that mosquito districts may be created and taxes collected from the district to carry on the expense of the work. This law did not go into effect in time to be made use of this year. Next year it is proposed to incorporate in a district the territory from Millbrae to Beresford, including the three cities, for the purpose of raising money to keep up the work. The law provides for the appointment of trustees to have control of the work and the handling of the funds.

A plague of mosquitoes next year would destroy the reputation that it has taken years for this country to gain. It is just becoming throughly known to the people outside of the county that mosquitoes are no longer troublesome. To have the plague visit the county again next year would not only prove troublesome to the residents but would injure the county financially far more than the cost of carrying on the work.

"Firestone" Defined

There are hundreds of people who remember the question, "What does Firestone mean?" asked in the play, "It Pays To Advertise." Like many other saying in the play this question carried a great deal of business significance. The enthusiastic young men of the play, starting in business, knew that the word "Firestone" would instantly bring to the mind of their financial backer its fellow-word "Tires."

True, they were using it purely as a publicity argument, but it will be noticed that they selected for their argument on tires a name that meant "tires" and nothing else. In other words, they chose the tire built by specialists.

This is a tribute to quality of product. Further it is a great tribute to Specialization. Sixteen years of tire-specialization makes Firestone leadership in Quality thoroughly logical.

Answering the advertising gentleman's question, Firestone means that degree of Quality of Product which in turn denotes satisfaction, service and economy in mileage produced by real tire specialists.

We will speak in the morning service of the instance in the life of Jesus that glorifies him. There was an obstacle to be over come; there was a struggle to be made against the temporary as a man of sorrow; and there was an exhibition of the power of conscious love to be displayed against the strong pressure of self interest, but on behalf of the human race Jesus did not yield to weakness. He simply resolved to do the will of God even tho it brought calvary nearer.

Jesus is an object of love not because of certain traits but because every trait of a perfect person is found in him. He has every shade of color as a ray of light has a spectrum and every line of virtue meets in a fixed star. The wonderful is made by comparison. We compare some few facts with the ordinary that are known as if by necessity and they seem wonderful but the wonderful are the common things, the usual things in the great insight of those people Jesus has redeemed and placed in liberty. The size of the conscious man decides his character and association with Jesus expects things so great that they cut off meanness and sin. Jesus teaches that volunteer contraction in his service becomes expansion and that men become great by conscious by becoming small in his sight. In Christian things you must be a child before you can be a man. Don't dismiss the matter because Christianity needs thought. All men can think it who wish to do our Fathers will.
